Expects to Have Work Well
In Hand For Grand Jury Monday.

Paducah, Ky., April 7.—Co-operation of the State soldiers with County Judge A. J. G. Wells at Murray will result in the arrest of at least ten men before the end of the week, this information coming from an authoritative source.

The night patrols and the day patrols have resulted in the gathering of much evidence that has been conveyed to Judge Wells. Warrants for ten alleged night riders have already been issued and the soldiers will commence to-day or to-morrow to serve them. Every man arrested will be arraigned before the County Judge for preliminary hearing.

The County Judge and company officers refuse to make a statement regarding the matter. The ten arrests may be the first installment of a large band.

Maj. Albrecht and Capt. J. L. Givens, of Company H., arrived at Murray last night from Hopkinsville. To-day they held a long conference with Judge Wells. It is said that they planned the course to pursue in the future. This is Maj. Albrecht's first visit to Murray. The soldiers at Murray belong to Capt. Givens' company. Maj. Albrecht is inspecting the troops in Western Kentucky.

He was at Eddyville yesterday where the soldiers have succeeded in rounding up alleged night riders. All of the 16 men indicted for taking

NEVER HAD A PHYSICIAN

Woman Nearly 100 Years Old Dies Near Glasgow.

Glasgow, Ky., April 2.—Miss Fannie Linn, said to be the oldest woman of this county, died at her home near Bewleytown this morning, after a short illness of grip. She was 99 years, 3 months and 8 days old today. She was born, reared and lived all her life on the farm where she died. During her entire life she never had a physician called to see her and had never taken a dose of medicine prescribed by a physician, even in her last illness. She always claimed that medicine killed more people than it cured and would not depart from this rule. During her long life she was blessed with unusually good health and was a woman of fine intellect and unusually strong mind. The remains will be interred in the family burying ground on the old farm where she lived.

KENTUCKY PREACHER.

The Rev. M. F. Ham Ordered To Leave New Orleans.

New Orleans, April 3.—A threatening letter created excitement here today at the recently-erected tabernacle of the Rev. M. F. Ham, a Kentucky evangelist, who has been preaching on "The Sins of Racecraft, Gambling and Liquor Traffic." The letter declared the evangelist would be killed unless he left town within forty-eight hours. It was elaborately embellished with drawings of skulls and crossbones and ended by saying:

"Remember that you will never see sunset again in old Kentucky unless you leave immediately." Signed, "Free Thinkers' Society of Texas."

Mr. Ham took the matter seriously, but the police say the letter was sent as a joke.

SYMPATHETIC STRIKES

To Prevent Employer From Conducting "Open Shop" Illegal.

Boston, April 3.—In a decision handed down today the Massachusetts Supreme Court declares that sympathetic strikes for the purpose of preventing an employer from conducting an "open shop" are illegal. The court's decision was rendered in the case of nine firms of building contractors in Lynn, who applied for an injunction restraining the Lynn Building Trades' Council and several affiliated unions from enforcing a sympathetic strike against the employers over the issue of an "open shop." In the Superior Court a permanent injunction against the unions was issued and the case went to the Supreme Court on an appeal.

MUNICIPAL UNLAW.

By JOHN KENDRICK BANGS.

Cincinnati is talking of electing "honest and efficient men for public office." We shall state the experiment with deep interest. If it proves successful in Cincinnati there is no reason why other American cities should not at least try it for themselves. We never know what we can do until we make an effort.

Nobody will deny, we fancy, the probable efficiency of a municipal department. Any profession that involves a pull as an essential factor of success may be safely left in the hands of the politicians.

It was Mrs. Jameson who wrote "a bond is necessary to complete our lives, only we must be careful that the bond does not become bondage." Some of our towns, like Milford Center, O., for instance, that have abandoned municipal ownership, but are still kept busy paying for it, would have done better to have cut this waste saying out and posted it in the market before proceeding further in their utopian schemes.

The man who said that figures never lie would probably have modified his assertion somewhat if he had hired an expert accountant to go over the accounts of these very profitable municipal ownership ventures that so successfully "reduce" taxation in British communities while multiplying the public debt by 10, as in case of Birmingham. A figure may be the most truthful thing in the world and yet betray vast imaginative powers when it gets down to business in the hands of an official "reporter" who wants to hold his job.

The verb "to graft" means to insert into a plant—that is to say, when you insert a politician into a gas plant, or a power plant, or an electric light plant, or a street car plant, you get a complete case of graft. Whatever may be said against municipal ownership, on its behalf it must be admitted that for the expert professional grafter it affords an abundant field of endeavor and one which he can assure himself will not let die of neglect. The only question is whether or not the process will improve the breed.

The inevitable issue of the Tom Johnson system of municipal ownership of the street railways will be the establishment of the zone system of fare collection—that is, instead of one fare the commuter will be called upon to pay three or four fares unless, of course, he prefers the ozone system, which involves the return to the old fashioned method of transportation known as "shank's mare," so popular with our forefathers.

It is reported that the municipal pawnshops of Paris are a failure. It is a pity. It will keep the British humorists from talking about municipal ownership, and that will be a real loss to lovers of that particular kind of humor all over the world.

When Tammany gets control of all New York's public utilities, will Tammany Hall be known as the power house or the grand central station?

We cannot be outdone in enterprise by our esteemed contemporaries, and we therefore offer our readers a missing line limerick, for the best completion of which received between now and February 52, 2707, we offer an abandoned municipal gas factory as a first prize, an unpaid tax bill for the second best and a booby prize of $10 in real state money for the worst. The first four lines of our prize limerick are as follows:

A city that made its own light
One dark and Novemberish night
Found out to its detriment
Mid the sleet and the rain,

Every reply must be written on the above blank line and sent anonymously to the limerick editor of Municipalumacy, the Earth, Solar System. No attention will be paid to communications not received.

AN ALMOST UNANIMOUS VOTE

The Citizens of Trenton, Mich., Are

All Glad to Be Rid of a Burden.

By a vote of 112 to 12 its citizens recently decided to sell for $5,000 the electric light plant, installed in 1902, and the waterworks (except the distributing system), installed in 1890. The original cost of the latter was $8,000, while $16,000 had been expended on the former. As a result of placing these plants in a public street the village had been engaged in litigation for five years, the final decision being against it.

In 1905 the building was destroyed by fire. Although it was insured and rebuilt, the plant has not been well kept up since, and there have been the usual differences between the council, the superintendent and the water board, finally resulting in abolishing the board.

An investigation by the council disclosed the fact that, aside from depreciation, the plant was losing at least $900 a year and that this loss would be considerably increased if they undertook to give the twenty-four hour service desired by some of the citizens. Their decision was unanimous and was sustained by an almost unanimous vote of the qualified electors.

Do You Feel Chilly, Then Feverish and Ache all Over?

Feel Worn-out, Blue and Tired? Have You a Fresh Cold, With Frequent Hacking Cough? Sensation of Soreness in the Chest or Back?

Don't let your case run into bronchitis, or some other obstinate and dangerous malady. The very best medicine to take in such a case is Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Made without alcohol or dangerous drugs, it contains that rare combination of native medicinal roots that will always cough (even if you are a cold), restore the circulation, assist the appetite and digestion, and consequently restore tone to the entire system. That is the reason people feel happy once more after taking it—they feel like living, because their liver is active, the blood in their arteries is full of that life-giving quality-rich, red blood. The blood in turn feeds the nerves.

Nervousness and neuritis are only the indication that the nerves are not fed on invigorating blood. This "Medical Discovery" of Dr. Pierce is nature's own restorer. It tones up the organism and invigorates its function, furnishing to the body one of its necessary constituent principles of which it is in need.

This preparation is of pleasant taste, agrees perfectly with rebellious and sensitive stomachs, and is extremely effective in restoring tone and vigor to the entire system. It cures troubles of the stomach and at the same time the blood-vessels are given such a toning up as to throw on a coat. One very good reason why it restores the health of run-down, pale and anemic people is because it first throws out the poisons through the liver and kidneys, and then begins its reconstructive work in building up flesh and making good blood.

"I have been a sufferer from indigestion for some thirty years," writes Mr. W. H. Jones, of Cincinnati, O., "and have used medicine from several of our best physicians, which gave me only a little temporary relief. They said I could never be cured. Last winter I was stricken with the worst spell that I ever had. I suffered with severe pain in the chest and stomach that I could neither work nor sleep, and my weight went down from one hundred and ninety-five pounds to one hundred and sixty pounds in about two months. I then concluded that I would try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. By the time the first bottle was gone, I felt some relief from my severe distress. I then bought and used four bottles of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and an extraordinary amount of benefit which I have received from your medicine, and can cordially recommend it to others."

It Stands Alone not only in respect to its ingredients, but also as the only medicine for stomach, liver and blood disorders, which absolutely contains PURELY VEGETABLE AND HERBICALLY MANAGED INGREDIENTS, WITH NO ALCOHOL.

It Stands Alone as the best of all medicines, because it cures the makers of which take their patients fully into their confidence and tell them exactly what it will do for them. Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery" is made of such natural and pure ingredients that it has thousands of cures to its credit, placing its merits above criticism.

It Stands Alone as a cure for many of the most common diseases of the human system, and its ingredients are: Golden Seal root, Queen's root, Stone root, Black Cherry bark, Bloodroot, Mandarin root, and chemically pure glycerine.

Whereas other medicines are the result of chemical processes, this is the only one put up by old Dr. P. It is made of concentrated and refined medicinal principles, extracted from native American plants and roots, therefore purely vegetable and perfectly harmless. One thus placed for a stomachic, or stomach and bowels, three tiny granules for a cathartic.

APRIL 17 IS TO BE ARBOR DAY

Acting Governor Cox Selects
That Day—Makes Holidays For Schools.

Call For Planting of Many More Trees.

Frankfort, Ky., April 4.—The following Arbor day proclamation was issued last night by Acting Governor Cox:

"I, William H. Cox, Acting Governor of the Commonwealth of Kentucky, do designate Friday, April 17, as Arbor day.

"Tree-planting, as is well known,
is the object for which this day was established and it is certainly an object that should inspire in itself interest on the part of every public-spirited citizen of this Commonwealth. Tree-planting is a valuable public improvement, as well as a beautifier. Its neglect by past generations, the devastation and destruction of numerous varieties in mountain forests, as well as of woodland for purposes of private gain,
has alarmed the Government authorities, who are taking vigorous measures toward adopting practical methods of restoration.

I recommend that Arbor day be considered a holiday in all the schools, that the school authorities take this occasion to beautify the grounds about the school buildings
by planting trees. The county school superintendents are respectfully requested to publish this proclamation throughout their respective counties, and to encourage the teachers to take an active interest in the day.

I invite the authorities of every city and town in the State to look into the tree question of their respective communities, and to take steps toward the proper observance of the day.

Done at the executive office this first day of April, nineteen hundred and eight.

Witness my hand and the great
seal of the Commonwealth."

"WILLIAM H. COX,
Acting Governor.
"Attest: BEN L. BRUNER, Secretary of State."

To feel strong, have good appetite and digestion, sleep soundly and enjoy life, use Burdock Blood Bitters,
the great system tonic and builder.

What The Night Riders Are Doing in Kentucky.

A Paducah dispatch says "Henry Bennett, who was whipped by night riders at Dycusburg and shot through the ear, says he will move to Tennessee, as he has been repeatedly warned by night riders that he must leave or be killed. They fear his testimony, as he says only one man was masked, and he compelled one boy to confess to being in the raid. Bennett said the night riders' password was "Blow out the lamp."
He is a cousin of Vaughan Bennett, who was killed by a posse near Clarksville, Tenn."

Clark county has been singularly free from the troubles that have grown out of the tobacco situation,
but last night a band of night riders
visited the residence of Aquilla Thomas, a tenant on the farm of Mrs. Lizzie Gay, and tore up his tobacco beds, rolling the canvas up and throwing it into the road. Will Keen and James Terry, tenants on the farm of Will Sphar, assistant cashier of the Winchester bank,
were also visited and letters left warning them to take the covers from their beds and abandon them
or they would be visited again.

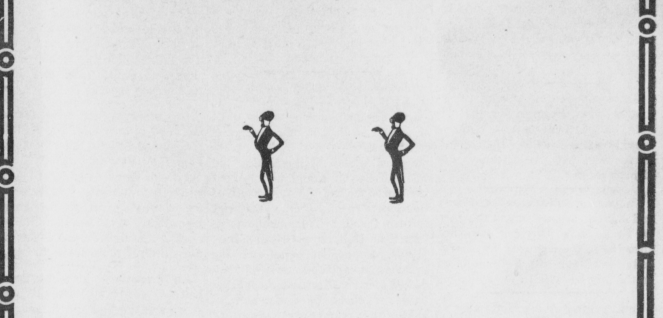

Itch! Itch! Itch!—Scratch! Scratch!
Scratch! The more you scratch the worse the itch. Try Doan's Ointment. It cures psoriasis, eczema, any skin itching. All druggists sell it.

Bennett's Walk-over.

Delegates to the Ninth district
Republican convention were elected, and instructions were given in all thirteen counties for the renomaination of Congressman J. B. Bennett.

The Weather.

Fair and cooler Thursday.

Congressman A. L. Brick, of Indiana, died Tuesday.

Waiters went on a strike and refused to serve the meal at the Bryan banquet Tuesday night in Denver.
The speaking went ahead without the eating.

Gaines, of Tennessee, and Burleson, of Texas, engaged in a hot debate on whether or not muleketeers should be destroyed as a "parasite."
Gaines won and the Christmas emblem remains.

The announcement that both Gray
and Johnson are actively in the race for President at Denver, does not alter the fact recognized by everybody that Bryan will be nominated on the first ballot.

In a charge to the grand jury at Frankfort Judge Stout ordered an investigation into the reports of the alleged bribery of certain legislators in connection with the senatorial race.

Five persons were shot to death
and fifty others wounded by soldiers Monday evening after the voting in the election in Lisbon, Portugal, had ended. The rioting was widespread.

Judge Reed and Judge Parker,
two more circuit judges, have come out strong against night riding and urged their grand juries to make rigid investigations.

England's sick Premier, Campbell
Bannerman, has resigned and Herbert A. Asquith has been summoned by King Edward to form a new Cabinet.

Cincinnati is very much elated
over the fact that the Bluegrass warehouses are shipping their stocks of tobacco to that city and not to Louisville. The night riders are giving Cincinnati an advantage that the city has never been able to acquire by legitimate competition.

Those who are curious as to what goes on "behind the scenes," and what kind of people the playfolks are when their make-up is off, will be delightfully enlightened by reading the complete novel in the April Lippincott's—"They Also Serve; The Story of a Farewell Performance," by Virginia Tracy—for no truer picture of theatrical life has ever been presented.

JUDGE JAS. E. CANTRILL.

Judge James E. Cantrill, who died in Georgetown, Sunday, was born in Bourbon county, June 20, 1839. His parents were Virginians. He was educated at Georgetown College, where he was graduated in 1858.
He removed to St. Louis in 1859,
where he began the practice of law.
When the Civil War broke out he returned to Kentucky and enlisted in the Confederate army, joining the Fifth Kentucky Cavalry, commanded by Col. D. Howard Smith. Later he was transferred to Gen. John H.
Morgan's command, serving under that distinguished General until his death. At the battle of Greasy Creek in 1863 he was wounded by the fragments of a bursting shell.

After the war Judge Cantrill returned to Kentucky and resumed
the practice of law at Georgetown.
He took a prominent part in the councils of the Democratic party in his section and soon became known in political circles throughout the State. In 1867 he was elected Rep-

lower house of the General Assembly. For several years he was Master Commissioner of the Scott Circuit Court and in 1879 was elected Lieutenant-Governor on the ticket with Gov. Luke Blackburn.

In 1892 Judge Cantrill was elevated to the bench, becoming Circuit Judge, and in 1898 he was re-elected to the Court of Appeals bench.
Shortly before the fall election in 1904 he was stricken with paralysis and never recovered, though he was well enough one time to go to Frankfort and be sworn in as a member of the Court of Appeals.

During his second term as Circuit
Judge, Judge Cantrill became a national figure. He twice presided at the trials of Caleb Powers on the charge of murdering Gov. William Goebel, and was on the bench also at the trials of Henry Youtsey, James Howard and Berry Howard.

Judge Cantrill was twice married,
his first wife being Miss Jennie Moore, the grand-daughter of the Rev. Barton Stone, one of the first ministers of the Christian church.
One son was born to the union, J.
Campbell Cantrill, a former State Senator, and now the head of the Society of Equity in the State of Kentucky. Mrs. Cantrill died in 1876. His second wife was Miss Mary Cecil, of Danville, who also has one son, Cecil Cantrill. Mrs.
Cantrill and both sons survive. The burial will take place to day.

Charles H. Berryman, manager of James B. Haggin's Elmendorf Stock
Farm, has made public the list of 31
broodmares and 11 suckling colts which were destroyed by fire at Elmendorf Sunday night. Most of the mares were young and but few of their produce had raced, but all of them were royally bred, a majority of them being by such stallions as Imp. Star Ruby, Imp. Greenan, Imp.
Mimic, Imp. Diendonne and the great American racehorses African-der, Waterboy, Kilmarnock and Reliable. Probably the two most valuable of the mares were Woodford
Lass, by the champion racehorse Salvator, and out of the equally famous mare Miss Woodford, and Flo-ralla, by the famous stallion Imp.
Watercross, out of Firenze, who was the greatest race mare of her day.

All of the mares destroyed, which had no sucklings by their side would have foaled in a few days. The horses destroyed were valued at about $80,000, and with the barn and provisions, which were worth $10,000, making a total loss of about $100,000.

The assumption is that the fire
was caused by a person or persons having a private grudge against Mr.
Haggin, Mr. Berryman or some of the overseers of the big estate. The barn which was burned was about half a mile from the stallion barn, which contained Salvator, Imp. Wa-tercross and other horses of great value, but which, however, is practically fire-proof.

Tennessee's new vagrant law has been held unconstitutional.

FIELD NOTES.

What The Night Riders Are Doing in Kentucky.

The Tobacco Association warehouse in Paducah caught fire Sunday morning, but the blaze was extinguished without great loss. The blaze is ascribed to accident. The warehouse held 1,000 hogstheads of tobacco.

Austin Howard, a negro farmer,
has left McCracken county and traded his farm there for Illinois property. He had been warned to leave by night riders, and went, though promised protection by the county judge.

The large new tobacco barn on the farm of Alex Anderson, near Kidd-ville, Clark county, burned Monday morning. The loss is $15,000, insurance $1,000. The fire was caused by incendiaries. Several other barns on the place were not molested and tobacco beds in the neighborhood being heavily guarded were not bothered. The barn destroyed was near the Montgomery county line,
and belonged to Representative J.
Will Clay.

Night riders burned the tobacco barns and ruined the plant beds of Stephen Ryan at Vevay, Ind., Monday night. They left a warning that they would hang him if he planted any tobacco.

It is reported that many farmers in Union county have received letters signed "Night Riders," telling them they would be visited if they did not make new and better terms with their tenants. It is also reported that many of the leading farmers are acquiescing in the demand. The tenants are demanding two-thirds of the share crops.

An incendiary fire Tuesday at Kuttawa destroyed Marshall's livery stable and the Southern Stone Co's plant. Loss is $3,500. Mrs. Augusta Whittington, an aged woman, died as a result of excitement over the fire.

The tobacco plant beds of ten prominent farmers residing on the Hardinsburg road in a radius of four miles of Owensboro, have been thickly sown with grass seed and the plants will probably be a total loss.

Will Patterson, a farmer residing near Birmingham, Marshall county, has received a warning signed "night riders" since the adjournment of the special grand jury. It was learned that enough evidence had been secured to issue a warrant, which has been placed in the Sheriff's hands.

The barn of John Crit Story, a farmer residing two miles from Sharpe, Marshall county, was burned, together with a large amount of feed and a calf. There had been no fire about the barn and the origin is a mystery. He is a tobacco grower, but has never received any threats.

Elkton, Ky., April 5.—The switchboard in the Home Telephone Company's exchange here was burned
last night, causing a loss of $300,

High Officials and Prominent Citizens

Unqualified Endorsement to Pe-ru-na.

No Medicine in the World Can Produce a More Impressive Array of Testimonials.

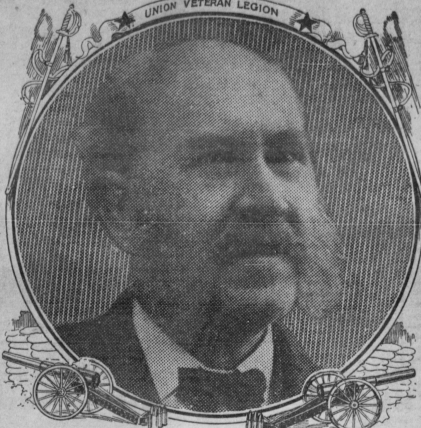

Every Testimonial Given in the Exact Words of the Testifier.

Terrible Case of Indigestion.
Mr. Donald Robb, Jr., 16 Wrights Ave., Nova Scotia, Canada, Deputy Supreme Chief Ranger, Independent Order of Foresters, writes:
"While on a visit to Boston I must have eaten something that did not agree with my stomach, as a terrible case of indigestion followed. Peruna was recommended to me, and after using three bottles I was entirely cured. I therefore recommend Peruna to any one suffering with stomach trouble."

Every Trace of Catarrh Gone.
Mr. James P. Bracken, 610 Tenth Ave., New York City, N. Y., has occupied the office of Water Inspector of New York City for the past fifteen years. He carries on an extensive plumbing business at 610 Tenth Ave. He is Post Deputy of Grand Knights of Reigna Cella Council Knights of Columbus, N. Y. He writes as follows:
"For nearly a dozen years catarrh has bothered me in one form or another. I was troubled with nasal catarrh, that affected my stomach, which troubled me most in the morning. My appetite was poor, and I did not seem to relish my food. Indigestion bothered me at times also."

"It was advised to take Peruna, and I took it as prescribed for a month, when my cure was almost complete. Today there is not a trace of catarrh in my system, and I can say without hesitation that Peruna cured me."

Agreeable and Effective Tonic.
Corporal John Pinn, Washington, D. C., veteran soldier of the Civil War, a prominent Grand Army man and commander of the oldest post in the United States, John A. Rawlin Post No. 1, department of the Potomac, Grand Army of the Republic, writes:
"Peruna was recommended to me by many of my associates, and I have given it a fair trial. Have found it a most agreeable and effective tonic, pleasant, soothing, and leaves one free from the deleterious effects produced by the many nostrums now on the market. I have suffered from catarrhal affections the

COL. HOMER RIGGS.

Col. Homer Riggs, Inspector General on the staff of the National Commander of the Union Veteran Legion, writes from the Pension Bureau, Washington, D. C., as follows:
"I thank you very much for calling my attention to Peruna. It is a pleasant and effective tonic, cures and prevents colds and catarrhal affections, and also acts upon the liver. I can recommend it as a safe and reliable medicine."

past winter, and have found Peruna most beneficial and commend it for what it has done for me."

Relieves Mind and Body.
Mr. G. W. Woodbury, Rogers, Ohio, formerly Captain and Center of the Hiram College Basketball Team, writes:
"When body and mind alike were weary and refused to work, a few doses of Peruna restored lost strength and invigorated quicker and more permanently than anything I know."

Unhesitatingly Recommends Peruna.
J. Edwin Browne, National Commander Army and Navy Union of U. S. A., 410 11th St., N. E. Washington, D. C., writes:
"I have no hesitation in endorsing your Peruna as a most efficient cure for catarrh. My own experience and that of many friends who have been benefited by its use recommend it to all persons suffering from that complaint."

Pe-ru-na Tablets.
For two years Dr. Hartman and his assistants have incessantly labored to create Peruna in tablet form, and their strenuous labors have just been crowned with success. People who object to liquid medicines can now secure Peruna tablets. These tablets represent the medicinal ingredients of Peruna, and each tablet is equivalent to one average dose.

The Family Relies on Pe-ru-na.
A. Hewitt Nickerson, Captain U. S. Army, Adjutant General on General McCook's staff, writes from the Census Building, Washington, D. C., as follows:
"It affords me great pleasure to commend Peruna as a most excellent tonic with many medicinal qualities that assist nature in overcoming the various ills with which the human family is often afflicted, and is always in danger. As a general thing, I have been opposed to what are known as patent medicines, but Peruna has long since overcome this feeling. It is now, as it has been for a long time, a well-established family medicine with us, upon which we rely to give tired nature substantial restoration."

ECZEMA NOW CURABLE.

All Itching Skin Diseases Which Are Not Hereditary Instantly Relieved by Oil of Wintergreen

Can Eczema be cured? Some physicians say "yes." Some say "No."

The real question is, "What is meant by Eczema?" If you mean those scaly eruptions, those diseases which make their first appearance, not at birth, but years afterwards, and perhaps not until middle age—then there can no longer be any question that these forms of eczema are curable.

Simple vegetable oil of wintergreen, mixed with other vegetable ingredients, will kill the germs that infest the skin. Apply this prescription to the skin, and instantly that awful itch is gone. The very moment the liquid is applied, that agonizing, tantalizing itch disappears, and continued applications of this external remedy soon cure the disease.

We carry in stock this oil of wintergreen properly compounded into D. D. D. Prescription. While we are not sure that it will cure all those cases of skin trouble which are inherited, we positively know that this D. D. D. Prescription, whenever rightly used, will cure every last case of genuine eczema or other skin trouble, which did not exist at birth.

We know this. Anyway, you, yourself, will know that D. D. D. Prescription instantly takes away the itch the moment it is applied to the skin. R. C. Hardwick, Hopkinsville, Ky. Stop that itch today— instantly. Just call at our store and try this refreshing and soothing liquid; also ask about D. D. D. Soap.

Suddenly the warm blood of Virginia's veins grew chill. It was as if a wind had blown up from the dark depths of the lake to strike like ice in to her soul. An instant more and he would have known that she was a princess of the blood, and through his whole life she could have gone on worshipping him because he had been ready to break down all barriers for her.

Her great moment had come, yet now that it was here, womanlike, she wished it away, not gone forever—oh, no—but waiting just round the corner of the future.

"The flowers are yours—I give them to you," she laughed, as if she fancied it was in eagerness to grasp the fabled spray that he had pressed her fingers.

"You are the one flower I want—flower of all the world," he answered in a choked voice, speaking words he had not meant to speak. But the ice barriers that held back the torrent of love had told her and melted long ago and now had been swept away.

Other barriers which he had built up in their place—his convictions, his duty as a man at the head of a nation—were gone too. "I love you," he stammered. "I love you far better than my life, which you saved. I've loved you ever since our first hour together on the mountain. But now I know I love has grown a thousandfold until now it's greater and higher than any mountain. I can fight against myself no longer. I thought I was strong, but this love is stronger than I am. Say that you care for me—only say that."

"I do care," Virginia whispered. She had prayed for this, lived for this, and she was drowning in happiness. Yet she had pictured a different scene, a scene of storm and stress. She had heard in fancy the roar of a nation's war and noble retribution on his lips, and in anticipating his suffering she had felt the joy her revelation would give. "I care—so much, so much! How hard it will be for her?"

"If you care, then, we shall not be parted," said Leopold.

The princess looked up at him in wonder, holding his hand as if it would have caught her in its arms. "What could he mean? What plan was in his mind that, believing her to be Helen Mowbray, yet made it possible for him to reassure her so?"

"I don't understand," she faltered. "You are the emperor, and I am no more than—"

"You are my wife if you love me," he said.

In the shock of her ecstatic surprise she was helpless to resist him longer, and he held her close and passionately, his lips on her hair, her face flushed against his heart. She could hear it beating, feel it throb under her cheek. His wife! Then he loved her enough for that. Yet how was it possible for him to stand ready for her sake to override the laws of his own land?

"My darling—my wife," he said again. "To think that you love me!"

"I have loved you from the first," the princess confessed, "but I was afraid you would feel, even if you cared, that we must say goodbye. Now—"

And in an instant the whole truth would have been told, but the word "goodbye" stabbed him, and he could not let it pass.

"We shall not say goodbye, not for an hour," he cried. "After this I could not love you. There's nothing to prevent my being your husband, you of my life. Would to God you were of royal blood and you should be my empress—the fairest empress that poet or historian ever saw—but were prisoner of fate, you and I. We must take the goods the gods provide. My goddess you will always be, but the empress of Rheathia you will not be. I am powerful enough to make you. If I am to you only half what you are to me you'll be satisfied with the empire of my heart!"

so no harm will be done in the end, except that I shall have to pay by suffering. Still I had no thought of the future without a partner. I felt that it was inevitable. And the suffering came hand in hand with the joy, for not a night here at Lyndalberg have I slept. If I had been weak I should have groined aloud in the agony of renunciation. "My rooms open on a lawn. More than once I've come out into the darkness when all the household was sleeping. Sometimes I have walked to this very spot where you and I stand now—heart to heart for the first time, my darling—asking myself whether there were any way out of labyrinth. It was not until I brought you here and saw you by my side, with the moon rays for a crown, that a flash of blinding light seemed to pierce the clouds. Suddenly I saw all things clearly, and though there will be difficulties, I count them as overcome."

"Never!" she exclaimed.

"Still you haven't answered my question," said Virginia in a low, strained voice.

"I'm coming to that now. It was best that you should know first all that's been troubling my heart and brain during these few bitter-sweet days which have taught me so much. You know men who have their place at the head of great nations can't think first of themselves or even of those they love better than themselves. If they hope to snatch at personal happiness they must take the one way open to them and be thankful."

"Don't do me the horrible injustice to believe that I wouldn't be proud to show you to my subjects as their empress, but instead I can offer only what men of royal blood for hundreds of years have offered to women whom they honored as well as loved. You must have heard even in England of what is called a morganatic marriage. It is that I offer you."

With a cry of pain—the cruel pain of wounded, disappointed love—the princess tore her hand from his.

"Never!" she exclaimed. "It's an insult."

"An insult? No, a thousand times no. I see that even now you don't understand."

"I think that I understand very well, too well," said Virginia brokenly. The beautiful fairy palace of happiness that she had watched as it grew lay shattered, destroyed, in the moment which ought to have seen its triumphant completion.

"I tell you that you cannot understand or you wouldn't say—You wouldn't dare to say, my love—that I'd insulted you. Don't you see, don't you know, that you would be my wife in the sight of all men as well as in the sight of God?"

"Your wife, you call it?" The princess gave a harsh little laugh which hurt as tears could not hurt. "You seem to have strange ideas of that word, which has always been sacred to me. A morganatic marriage! That is a mere pretence, a hypocrisy!"

"Would be your wife, you say. I would give you all my love, all my life. Yet in return would give me—your life! And you know well that in a country which tolerates such an unsold travesty of marriage the law would hold you free to marry another woman—a royal woman, whom you could make an empress—as free as if I had no existence."

"Great heaven, that you should speak so!" he broke out. "What if the law did hold me free? Can you dream—do you put me so low as to dream—that my heart would hold me free? My soul would be bound to you forever."

"So you may believe now. But the knowledge that you could change would be deadly to me. I would die. Yes, I tell you again, it was an insult to offer a lot so miserable, so contemptible, to a woman you profess to love. How could you do it? If only you had never spoken the hateful words—if only you had left me the ideal I had of you—noble, glorious, above the whole world of men! But, after all, you could not do that. If you had said 'I love you, yet we must part, for duty stands between us,' I could—"

But no, I can never tell you now what I could have answered if you had said that instead of breaking my heart."

Under the fire of her reproach he stood still, his lips tight, his shoulders braced, as if he held his breast open for the knife.

"By heaven, it is you who are cruel!" he said at last. "How can I make you see your injustice?"

"It must, I wish it!"

He had caught her dress as she turned to go, but now he released her. "You wish it? It's not true that you love me, then?"

MR. BRYAN'S OPINIONS

The plan of guaranteed bank deposits has probably found favor among all classes of people and irrespective of political affiliation, more rapidly than any other public question.

The new state of Oklahoma has already enacted a law taxing state banks, the fund thus accumulated to be used in paying the depositors of any state bank that from any cause becomes unable to meet its obligations. A special session of the Kansas legislature has been called for the purpose of enacting legislation similar to the Oklahoma plan. The governor of Nebraska is considering the advisability of calling a special session of the legislature on account of the growing belief among the people that protection to bank depositors in the form of state or federal guarantees of their deposits will stop the hoarding of money, bring into circulation sufficient currency to conduct the business of the country, and prevent a recurrence of such disastrous panics as the one through which we have now passing.

Mr. Bryan has been an advocate of a law guaranteeing deposits in state and national banks since 1893. Mr. Bryan, in discussing the tariff questions, insists that residents of the United States should be permitted to buy home-made goods at home at as low a price as the foreigner can buy American-made goods abroad. He also insists that our government should be by and for the people as a whole, rather than by and for the trusts, and administered in the interest of a few beneficiaries of the trust system. He believes that national legislation for the purpose of better regulation and control of interstate commerce and common carriers should supplement state legislation, and not be a substitute for state legislation.

Mr. Bryan's paper, The Commoner, reflects his opinions each week on questions of public importance and in its columns may also be found his magazine articles, public speeches, addresses and lectures, which are referred to in the daily press from day to day.

If you are interested in political questions, if you desire to keep in touch with the progress of the campaign and to read Mr. Bryan's campaign speeches send sixty cents to The Commoner, and the paper will be sent to you each week until the close of the next presidential campaign.

Postoffice money order, currency or stamps will be accepted. Only sixty cents. Address The Commoner, Lincoln, Neb.

LAY IT ON NIGHT RIDERS

Big Blaze at Lynchburg Starts in Factory of Tobaccoist.

Lynchburg, Va., April 3.—The origin of a fire which destroyed $225,000 worth of property here today, which is surrounded by mysterious circumstances, is laid by many to a representative of the "night riders," because the fire started in a factory occupied by W. G. Dunnington, of Farmville, this State, who is a heavy buyer in Kentucky for the Austrian and Italian trade.

The blaze started in a plant in which no fire has been for a month, and it cannot be accounted for without the incendiary theory. Dunnington had more than a million pounds of tobacco in the three burned buildings, and a representative admitted to-day that his loss would be $115,000, fully covered by insurance. The fire spread to an overall factory, which was gutted, throwing sixty-five girls out of employment. The police are investigating the night rider report.

When Dogs Went to Church.

Whether in repentance for sins of the week or for want of smaller kennels we are not told, but dogs of the good old days had a remarkable fondness for church services. The clergy and wardens had an equally extraordinary objection to four legged devotees. There are many church records showing the expenditure on wisp and tongs for intruding dogs and wages paid to the wielders of these weapons.

In the county of Kent is a piece of land still known as Dog Whippers' marsh, from which a payment of 10 shillings a year was to be devoted to keeping order in the church and dogs out of it during service.

The purchase of dog tongs must have evoked merriment rather than the solemnity they were employed to secure. The cathedral at Bangor, in Wales, has a glass case full of specimens. They are familiar as the "lazy tongs" for the lump sugar or larger ones to pick pieces of coal. They are tongs, indeed, with an extension movement. These dog tongs are big affairs, made of oak, which stretch out three feet and have teeth let in and jaws to get a firm grip on the dog's head.—New York Tribune.

LOW PRICES THE CAUSE

Of Tobacco Riots Now Same as In The Year 1683.--- Growers Mistreated.

HISTORY OF THE WEED.

It Is Remarkably Interesting ---Was Used as Money In Virginia.

In 1683, an extraordinary series of occurrences grew out of the low price of tobacco, says the historian. Many people signed petitions to stop planting for one year. This request was not granted, so they banded themselves together and went through the country destroying tobacco plants wherever found. The evil grew to such an extent, the assembly passed a law that the malefactors had passed beyond the bounds of riot, and that their aim was the subversion of the government. It was enacted that if any persons to the number of eight or more, should go about destroying tobacco plants they should be adjudged traitors and suffer death.

These occurrences over 200 years ago, prove that there is nothing new under the sun. Of course the good old pioneers of this country did not have the trust to contend with, but the trouble in those days proved to be overproduction.

The first law passed by the general assembly of Virginia in 1619 referred to tobacco. The price was fixed at three shillings for the best and the second sort at 18d the pound. The tobacco was inspected and if not vendable at the second price it shall then be immediately burnt before the owner's face.

Tobacco was, in those days, the money used. Later, a law was passed, that if anyone missed divine service he should be fined one pound of tobacco.

In 1628, notwithstanding the law, tobacco declined in price. Then a law was passed to that effect, that no planter should plant above 2,000 plants for each member of his family. The price continued to decline. Now all the bad and half the good should be destroyed, but things gradually became worse until in 1681 a treaty was negotiated between the colonies of Maryland, Virginia and Carolina to stop planting tobacco for one year, since the markets were glutted with it, and the value was so low that the planter could not live from the results of his labor. Then followed the riots of 1683, which were followed by the strict laws as mentioned above.---Owners-bore-Inquirer.
